

Smart Investing @ Your Library

Oklahoma Library Association Annual Conference
April 26, 2017

Online Training for Librarians

SmartInvesting@YourLibrary

smartinvesting.ala.org/stafftraining/on-line-self-paced-reference-course

This series of fifteen online courses covers a number of financial issues, from managing money to estate planning. It is sponsored by a partnership between ALA and the FINRA Foundation. The FINRA Investor Education Foundation provides underserved American's with the knowledge, skills and tools necessary for financial success throughout life.

Consumer Financial Protection Bureau

<https://www.consumerfinance.gov/library-resources/librarian-training/>

The CFPB is working with libraries to provide websites, worksheets, guides and other information to help make libraries the go-to source for consumers' financial education and money decisions.